

1. Abstract

In the abstract, the following points should be underlined:

- What was done
- How was it done
- What were the main results
- Major conclusions based on the results found

This will increase the scientific appearance of the report, as well as entice interested readers to review the results in more detail.